
 This is the fourth and final installment of our Lenten Lecture Series, Reclaiming Our First Love: God's Call to Holiness of Life, Conference #4 – Social-Political Dimensions of the Radical Following of Jesus. I have provided a brief overview of my final lecture. I pray you have found my lectures efficacious during your Lenten Season and spiritual growth.

From the Pastor

During the Lenten lecture series we quoted St. Augustine and his thoughts and actions on conversion and how to come closer to Jesus throughout our lives. It seems clear enough that his attitude towards bearing the cross, that is, toward doing necessary penance and practicing mortification in the Christian life, did not vary to any significant degree, either when he was talking to the laity or to religious. He always insisted on these same points: 1) the necessity of taking up the cross and following Christ; 2) the need for safeguarding one's health while doing this; 3) the presence of a personal sense of responsibility, guided by generosity and prudent moderation; 4) the absolute importance in this, as in all other things, is love as the ultimate norm. If this final norm cannot be achieved, if the unity of a community is disrupted or placed in real danger by what an individual or group may be doing, then this cannot be a wholesome way of imitating Christ.

If such is the Augustinian way of carrying the cross, is there anyone who cannot bear this cross with love? At times it seems that, in the wake of the Second Vatican Council, for far too many religious, penance and mortification have suffered a similar fate as meditative and contemplative prayer. Because this kind of prayer was frequently no longer practiced in common, many simply ignored or neglected it. Yet just as religious cannot grow without the prayer of quiet, so they cannot hope to fulfill their goal of following Christ more closely unless they are also willing to take up their cross.

This cross, as we have seen, is multifaceted. It is at one time prayer, fasting and abstinence. It is also, however, dedication to study, and to other forms of the apostolate, undertaken only to seek the interests of Christ. It means bearing up under the trials of daily life, keeping the commandments, being motivated as Jesus was. It means helping to carry one another's burdens, out of love. It means accepting not only the joys of community life, but also its sufferings – the pains and struggles of our brothers and sisters, as well as our own. In all these ways we become more conformed to the image of Jesus Christ, whose cross we were and still are, by our sinfulness and frequent unwillingness to renew ourselves in the Spirit. When we carry our crosses, not only individually, but also as community, they become much lighter, especially when, as Augustine emphasizes time and time again, they lead us to greater unity and love. The following quotation sums up Augustine's attitude and can serve as a fitting conclusion to these reflections.

If you hold on to the words of Christ... you will not become enslaved either by the desires of the flesh, or by those of the eyes, or by worldly ambition. And you will make room for the coming of charity, so that you may love God... Each one is what he loves. Do you love the earth? You will be earthy. Do you love God? What shall I say: that you will be God? I would not dare say it on my own authority, but listen to the Scriptures: 'I said, you are gods and sons of the Most High. [Commentary on the Epistle of St. John 2, 14].

Let us continue to pray for one another during this Holy Season, especially for the poor.

In Christ Jesus and St. Augustine,
 Fr. Gregory Heidenblut, O.S.A.

UPDATE: OLG TRANSITION TO DIOCESE

The following is the first of occasional updates on the transition of OLG to the Diocese provided by the leader of the Transition Team, Patrick Devine.

The Transition team (named below) whom Fr. Greg appointed to help in the transition of OLG to the Dioceses met with Rev. Paul Schmidt, the Vicar of Priests for the Diocese on Thursday evening (March 12th). We shared with him many of the ministries and activities the parishioners are involved in so that he could make the Diocese aware of our history, culture, diversity and charism.

Fr. Schmidt, Vicar of Priests explained that the process of appointing a new pastor is as follows:

The Personnel board will meet in about one month and make recommendations on pastor staffing. These recommendations are forwarded to the Bishop for his review and to ultimately assign a Pastor. It is anticipated that the appointment to OLG will be made effective July 1st. When we get more information we will update the bulletin.

As we help OLG through the transition process, now would be a good time to reach out to a team member (listed below) and share with them your suggestions and questions about the transition. We would ask that you also keep them in prayer as they help guide the Parish and the Diocese.

Gospel for EASTER SUNDAY (April 5th)
John 20:1-9

On the first day of the week, Mary of Magdala came to the tomb early in the morning, while it was still dark, and saw the stone removed from the tomb. So she ran and went to Simon Peter and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and told them, "They have taken the Lord from the tomb, and we don't know where they put him." So Peter and the other disciple went out and came to the tomb. They both ran, but the other disciple ran faster than Peter and arrived at the tomb first; he bent down and saw the burial cloths there, but did not go in. When Simon Peter arrived after him, he went into the tomb and saw the burial cloths there, and the cloth that had covered his head, not with the burial cloths but rolled up in a separate place. Then the other disciple also went in, the one who had arrived at the tomb first, and he saw and believed. For they did not yet understand the Scripture that he had to rise from the dead.

FESCO'S ANNUAL SHELTER SHUFFLE IS COMING SOON!

It's time for the 18th Annual FESCO Shuffle Walkathon. The event will take place on May 2nd, at the San Leandro Marina.

The FESCO Shuffle Walkathon is FESCO's primary fundraising event of the year and our success depends on the participation of event Sponsors, community groups and churches, and individuals, including those who walk, run, and shuffle – many with their dogs – around the paths at San Leandro's Marina Park. The beautiful view of the Bay, the camaraderie of the participants, and the after-party BBQ in the park's newly renovated picnic areas are just a few of the reasons why FESCO's Shuffle Walkathon has the reputation for being a terrifically fun event.

Please send a message to our community that you are committed to ending family homelessness in Alameda County by pledging your support as a donor to FESCO's 18th Annual Shuffle Walkathon.

For information or to be a walker, sponsor or donor contact Colleen Lindberg in the Parish office.
